Strategic Goals, Strategies, and 2022 – 2023 Strategic Initiatives

Strategic Focus Area 1: Court Funding and Technology Infrastructure

Overview: Michigan’s trial courts are funded through a complex collection of general tax revenue and monies assessed and collected by the trial courts. Reforming trial court funding has many benefits. For example, funding reform will help alleviate real or perceived conflicts of interest between impartiality and any obligation to generate revenue. Reform will also provide for adequate and consistent funding across the state and eliminate excessive dependence on local governments. Equal access also will be improved with funding reform. Finally, statewide court funding will bring about needed improvements to the courts’ technology infrastructure. The Judiciary is currently home to 16 different case management systems. A unified technology system will allow for improved data gathering and reporting, improved access to justice, and better position the judicial branch for integration with other justice system stakeholders.

STRATEGIES FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS:

Court Funding:

- a. Design and recommend a new approach to trial court funding.
- b. Educate about the current problems with trial court funding system and needs for the future.
- c. Collaborate with legislative and executive branch leaders to create and implement a viable approach to trial court funding.
- d. Build internal and external support for implementing a new trial court funding model in Michigan.

Unified Technology Infrastructure

- a. Fund a statewide technology infrastructure (e.g., hardware, software/applications, and data improvements) that meets security and other requirements/specifications using existing and new funding (i.e., American Recovery Plan).
- b. Develop and implement a uniform statewide data structure and uniform data collection methods and reporting to guide decision-making as part of the statewide technology infrastructure.
- c. Educate about and build support for a unified technology infrastructure among judicial officers, employees, local funding units/leaders, and others.

- d. Identify and mobilize a wide range of champions to advocate for change.
- e. Develop a strategy to achieve uniformity/consistency when transitioning to the technology infrastructure.
- f. Improve and expand IT education and support to courts across the state.

Strategic Goal #2: The Public's Experience & Effective Problem Resolution

Overview: Access to justice is imperative and a high priority for the judicial branch. All people need to be able to interact with and easily navigate today's and tomorrow's court system. The experience of the public must engender understanding, trust, and respect in the judicial system. Additionally, the judicial branch is committed to improving and expanding effective dispute resolution practices. This includes improving pretrial practices; expanding services to people experiencing mental health and substance use disorders; and using evidence-based and other effective problem-resolution practices to achieve effective outcomes for youth, families, and others who use the courts. The judicial branch is looking to leverage existing and emerging technologies and address endemic and persistent inadequacies and injustices. Improving the public's experiences and dispute and resolution practices will build and ensure a system that is accessible to all and trusted by all.

STRATEGIES FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS:

Improve the Public's Experience:

- a. Make the courts more understandable and user friendly for all who use the courts.
- b. Enhance/expand educational and other resources (e.g., information, technology, personal assistance) available to court users so they are able to access and conduct business successfully with courts in-person and virtually.
- c. Use existing and emerging technologies to enhance access to services, court and case information, and the ability to conduct business with the courts remotely/virtually, etc.
- d. Improve websites and enhance dissemination of information using a variety of media and platforms to reach all court users.
- e. Implement regulatory and other policy changes that will allow for an expansion of legal and non-legal assistance to court users (all types of cases) (e.g., implement regulatory reform).
- f. Ensure courts across the state have access to a wide range of services and programs that meet the needs of court users.

Provide More Effective Problem Resolution

- a. Implement operational efficiencies through technology and simplify court procedures.
- b. Increase consistency in staffing levels, resources, procedures, and scheduling.
- c. Expand the use of case management practices that help resolve cases expeditiously.
- d. Develop a comprehensive continuum of court and community services to effectively address mental/behavioral health and substance abuse and addiction issues.
- e. Establish methods for collaborating and providing needed services (e.g., housing, education, mental health, substance abuse and addiction, rehabilitation) across justice and social service systems.
- f. Collaborate with partners to expand the availability of justice and community resources across the state, particularly in rural areas.
- g. Continue to expand uses of alternative dispute resolution methods and options (e.g., mediation, online dispute resolution, etc.).
- h. Be a leader in implementing justice and judicial system reforms consistent with the recommendations of Michigan’s Task Forces and Commissions and other national leaders and studies.

3. Behavioral Health Improvements Description: Behavioral health issues permeate all case types. New strategies are needed to divert adults and youth with mental health and substance use disorders from entering the justice system (criminal and civil) and/or to connect youth, adults, and families with needed behavioral health services. Strategic Goal #3: Racial and Social Equity

Overview: All people who interact with the judicial system will be treated equitably and with dignity and respect. The Michigan Judicial Branch will work to eliminate racial and social inequities across the entire justice system, including from initial contact, while cases are pending, and as people exit the system. All people, especially people of color and disenfranchised and marginalized groups, will have similar experiences. All will experience a justice system that is free from bias, equitable, consistent, and predictable. Working from studies that have found large disparities in arrests, sentencing, and incarceration rates between white people and people of color, the judicial branch will work to implement practices, policies, and procedures to eliminate disparate treatment and ensure equity and fairness across the justice system.

STRATEGIES FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS:

Racial and Social Equity

- a. Identify and study practices that may, or are known to, result in disparate treatment and share data to understand and educate about the magnitude and impacts of these practices.
- b. Eliminate practices that disadvantage specific groups and/or result in disparate treatment and outcomes; implement new practices that are just and equitable for all.
- c. Continue to improve and expand trainings and educational opportunities for judicial branch employees.
- d. Build trust with all people, especially people of color and disenfranchised and marginalized groups, in collaboration with justice system and community partners.
- e. Promote/advocate for diversity in justice system leaders, including judicial officers, prosecutors, law enforcement, etc. to ensure leaders and employees reflect the diversity in the communities they serve.
- f. Normalize conversations about racial and social equity across the judicial branch, with justice system and community partners, and within communities.
- g. Lead efforts to increase equity, consistency, and predictability within and across courts and with external partners.
- h. Implement consistent and predictable processes across all courts.

5. Training/Education for Judicial Officers and Court Employees Description: Studies show racial and social disparities continue to exist throughout the justice system. Working to address and mitigate racial and social inequities will ensure that all people who interact with the judicial system are treated equitably, and with dignity and respect. Strategic Goal #4: Public Trust and Understanding Overview: Public trust and confidence in governmental institutions, including the judicial branch, have been on the decline for decades. Reversing this trend is a high priority for the Michigan Judicial Branch. Michigan courts deliver justice for all by providing access, protecting rights, resolving disputes, and applying the law under the Constitution (mission statement). The judicial branch strives to be accessible to all and trusted by all (vision statement). Remaining independent, being fair and impartial, responding to needs, being accountable for conduct and performance, and being transparent in the use of public resources (core values) will garner increased public trust and confidence in the branch. The judicial branch will work diligently on a variety of strategies to educate people about the branch, reach out to and collaborate with the public and partners to make improvements, and fulfill its mission, vision, and core values.

STRATEGIES FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS:

Public Trust and Understanding

- a. Expand public outreach and education to promote confidence in the judicial branch, and educate about civics, democracy, the rule of law, and court procedures and practices.
- b. Collaborate with justice system and community partners to educate about and build trust and confidence in the judicial branch.
- c. Build upon and strengthen court performance metrics and reporting (e.g., public dashboard, etc.).
- d. Increase transparency while also protecting the privacy of court participants.
- e. Continue to improve and expand training and educational opportunities for the judiciary and court employees on professionalism, civility, ethics, etc.
- f. Continually solicit and listen to public/court user feedback.

6. Increasing Public Trust Through Procedural Fairness Description: Procedural fairness is defined as court users having a sense decision are made through court processes that are fair. Procedural fairness includes perceptions about (1) how cases are handled and (2) the quality of treatment people receive throughout the court process. The four dimensions of procedural fairness are: Respect, Voice, Neutrality, and Trust. Perceptions of procedural fairness are the strongest predictor of public satisfaction, approval, and confidence in the courts irrespective of why people are at court, whether they won or lost their case, and their ethnicity, race, and economic or social status, according to 35 years of research. Thus, increased perceptions of procedural fairness can lead to greater public support for the courts.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • b, c, d, e, g 	Study and develop and recommend approaches (e.g., practices, resources, tools) for embedding procedural fairness principles and practices into court operations including the courtroom and court processes. Assess the effectiveness of the current SCAO Public Satisfaction survey, to garner public perception of MI judiciary. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluate existing education tools and trainings on procedural fairness. • Final Report that includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Strategies for embedding procedural fairness principles and practices into court operations, as well the behaviors of judicial officers and court employees. ○ Recommendations for measuring perceptions of procedural fairness. ○ Recommendations for additional and updated training and education. ○ Recommendations for next steps. 	MJC Work Group Chair: Hon. 7. Transparency and Public Access – Live Streaming Policies/Rules Description: Transparency of our courts are critical to maintaining public trust in the judiciary. Transparency is achieved not just by having the doors to courtrooms open, but by having those proceedings reported out to the world. The recent increase in the use of remote proceedings has presented challenges in balancing the interests of transparency and privacy that must be addressed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> d, g 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Develop recommendations regarding remote proceedings and livestreaming consistent with the Michigan Supreme Court’s administrative orders.
